Big Sir's Commentary

It's fall here in Northern California's answer to Camelot. Leaves are changing to red, gold and russet. Plans are being made for Halloween and Thanksgiving, one of the best holidays of the year. Our November meeting will again honor our veterans. Lynn Freeman has put together an interesting program and the SongSIRs will present some songs to touch the hearts of anyone serving in the military. Jeff Bailey informs me that he occasionally has trouble getting members to provide personal profiles for the Know Your Sir column in the SIR CALL. Don't be shy. We really are interested in your background and story. A good topic to include is your present & past activities in SIR i.e. golf, bowling, bridge, bocce, and even just enjoying the luncheon food, speakers and camaraderie. So give him a call or say "yes" if he asks. Executive Board meeting will be at 9:30.

Fred Kovar

Send your check made out to Sirs Branch #146 along with a self-addressed stamped envelope to Bob Spellman, 3524 Perada Dr, Walnut Creek, CA 94598. The cost is $9.45 for 1 lb. and $18.90 for 2 lb. box. They make great gifts.

Up at SIR headquarters in the logo control department they tried crossing a rooster with a rooster. All they got was two cross roosters.

Little Sir's Corner

Nov. 14. Thanks to Sir Lynn Freeman, speaker will be Rear Admiral Russell M. Gorman-USN Ret. who will give us a report on "The Navy Today". SongSirs will sing 4 military songs so join in your branch's song.

Computers

Chris Satterthwaite

COMPUTER VIRUS

At least a dozen SIRs have recently indicated to this reporter that they have experienced a virus event. Here are several steps that will help you to get secure and stay secure using the internet:

- 1 Assess your risk. Who uses your computer? Do you open attachments and download w/o knowing the sender? If you have cable modem or DSL your risk multiplies.
- 2 Use anti-virus software to include a firewall. Keep software up to date. McAfee, Norton and Stop-Sign come to mind.
- 3 Check your security settings.
- 4 Create strong passwords. If someone were to get your passwords they could raise havoc with your on-line accounts such as Quicken. Create strong passwords with a sequence of random letters, numbers and symbols.
- 5 Conduct routine security maintenance. If you're really serious about this threat for a comprehensive treatment log on to:
http://microsoft.com/security/articles/steps\_default.asp
or get Matthew Danda's book "Protect Yourself Online" written for all levels. ISBN 0-7356-1188-2.

Cooking Don Nunn

1st Monday 9:30 am at various members' homes.

Our 7th dinner dance was held on October 2 at the Garden Center at Heather Farms and was completely sold out. All enjoyed the live band and sit down dinner. All of our SIR twinkle-toes and wives were delighted. Next dance will be in March of '03. The Cooking group met at the Home of Warren Boero on September 28th. Members and their wives enjoyed a great potluck supper with Warren providing barbecued ribs that were superb. We purchased 10 -1/2 gallons of wine and bottled 52 bottles with our own labels. We will meet at the home of Sir Gene Diana in November for our last meeting until February of 2003. Contact Sir Gene for directions.

Recipe of The Month

Charlie K's Chicken by Charlie Kiser

Feeds 4-5 people, depending on how much chicken .
2 or 3 boneless chicken breasts
2 6 oz jars of marinated artichoke hearts
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup dry sherry or white wine
1 10 ounce can of mushroom soup (golden mushroom or cream)
Cut chicken into bite sized pieces. Drain oil from artichoke hearts into deep frying pan, add butter and brown the chicken. After chicken is browned, add wine and cover. Simmer 25 minutes. Remove chicken and add artichoke hearts and soup. Add more liquid if you want a thinner sauce. Stir sauce thoroughly.

(It will separate a bit from the oil, which is fine. Just minimize the separation.)

Return the chicken and cook 10 more minutes at a good simmer.

Serve with wild or long grain rice (buy it in a box).

Readers are encouraged to submit interesting recipes to be featured as "Recipe of The Month". Please send all recipes to Warren Boero or Don Nunn....ed

Health Matters Physical and Mental

PEOPLE-PLEASERS

The popular song from a few decades ago about "Flying Purple People Eaters" was a farce. But being a "people-pleaser" can be hard on you, both physically and emotionally. In her book, The Disease to Please, Harriet Braiker, PhD, says you can watch your stress levels go down when you learn to say "no" to others and "yes" to yourself.

You can see whether you are a people-pleaser by how you respond to these statements posed by Dr. Braiker:

1. When someone asks you for a favor, you almost always oblige.
2. You can't relax until you finish all the things on your to-do list.
3. At the end of the day, you are seldom happy with what you have accomplished.
4. Your sense of self is based on what you do for others.
5. You rarely ask anyone to do anything for you.
6. You would feel guilty if you took time to do something pleasurable for yourself.
7. Sometimes you are so tired taking care of family and friends that you don't have energy left to devote to yourself.
8. You feel that no one would really like you if you stopped doing things for them.

TRANS-FATS

It seems so innocuous "partially hydrogenated soybean oil." After all, it's only "partially" hydrogenated. When fats are partially hydrogenated (going from a liquid to a solid at room temperature), they become very useful for food processors to use them. They have a long shelf life; they allow cooking at higher temperatures; they are great for food producers. And you can find them just about anywhere; in cookies, crackers, cakes, pies and many fried foods. But they aren't great for your body. They raise the risk of heart disease considerably. How? "Trans-fatty acids," as they are called, raise LDL "bad" cholesterol and lower HDL "good" cholesterol. So if you are looking for ways to reduce your risk of heart disease, it's as simple as reading labels.

If it says "partially-hydrogenated," put it down.

Know Your SIR Thomas G. Dunne

Over time I have come to understand that the important things in life are to know love, keep learning, work smart, give something back to society and be happy. It's an ongoing process.

Born and raised in an automotive family in Detroit, Michigan, in my early years I wanted to design cars. Initially, I was trained by GMIT to be a tool designer. Then WW II changed all that. After enlisting I was sent to California and Texas for Army Basic Infantry training followed by a tour of duty in the Pacific Theater of War, with landings in the Philippines and Okinawa. During the time I was in California, I met and wed Betty— that's the "love" part. After duty with the Allied occupation forces in Japan, I returned home, then back to California where Betty and I raised four great kids and as a result now enjoy eight grandkids. How lucky can you be? Raising a family is a lifetime process and challenge. The rewards, however, are worth the effort!

My first job in California was with the City of Salinas where I worked for 26 years, starting as a civil engineering draftsman and Public Service Director, and ending up their City Manager— that's the "work smart" part. I was also their Community Development Director for a period of years. My personal growth in Salinas was due to having an "I can do it" attitude and having a great mentor.

During this period of my professional development, Walnut Creek coaxed me out of Salinas in 1972 to be their City Manager—personally and professionally, a great move for me! I served as the City Manager for almost 16 years and loved almost every day of it. As I grow older, I tend to forget the downside of things and remember the good times. After a total of 42 years of public service (30 of which I was City Manager), I retired in 1987. During those years, I was honored by being elected to serve as a Director and President of the City Manager's Department of the League of California Cities and in 1980 I also served as President of the International City/County Manager's Association. That organization gave me their award for Distinguished Service in 1988. The Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce presented me their Business Person of the Year Award in 1987—first time ever given to a public employee. I very much liked being a City Manager— you don't get parking tickets and the street in front of your house is always clean—you can also make a real difference in the life of a city. If I have had any success in that regard, it was in large measure due to having worked with some truly outstanding elected and appointed city officials who were able to agree on a common vision for our city and with great public employees who worked together both hard and smart to accomplish that vision. We didn't always agree but we did know and agree upon where we wanted to take Walnut Creek and we got there! In my post retirement years, I have worked as a part-time local government consultant (less time— more money) and served on a number of local, state and national boards and committees. Currently, I serve as chairman of the board of the Public Entity Risk Institute, a national organization concerned with managing risk for small local governments, non-profit organizations and small businesses in our country. This is the "give back to society" part.

Betty and I have been very lucky to be able to travel extensively both in this country and abroad. We particularly like the Elderhostel program tours - that's also the "learning" part.

When I retired, I also tried golf and did poorly. Even Bob Boldt couldn't make a golfer out of me! He didn't get all that gray hair from aging.

My hobbies have included antique clock collecting, making birdhouses and more recently trying to learn how to use the computer. I never cease to be amazed at how much it will tell you if you ask! We also have enjoyed the SIRs program and it's fellowship.

My plan for the remaining years God gives me is to keep my bride of 58 years happy and stay as healthy as I can, keep trying to discover what is new and different in the universe and most importantly, stay happy.

"You can observe a lot by just watching". Yogi Berra
